Alaska’s Adventure Corridor

All roads lead to Valdez.

DRIVE: Proclaimed as one of “America’s Most Scenic Roads” and known to Alaskans as the “Adventure Corridor,” the drive to Valdez from Fairbanks, Tok, and Anchorage provides breathtaking views of glaciers, waterfalls, towering mountains and incredible scenery. The picturesque Glenn Highway and Richardson Highway converge along the nation’s largest national park — the Wrangell-St. Elias — holding nine of the 16 tallest peaks in the U.S.

Whether driving from Anchorage, Tok, or Fairbanks, the community of Glennallen provides gas, food and lodging needs before continuing on to the Richardson Highway. Watch for the sign to Worthington Glacier, one of Alaska’s most accessible glaciers, when driving through the breathtaking Thompson Pass.

Be ready to pull over and take in the majesty of the awe-inspiring Keystone Canyon, where cascading waterfalls greet you from towering canyon walls just before entering Valdez.
FLY: Take a short 45-minute flight from Anchorage. Daily flights offer spectacular views of the coastal Chugach Mountains, vast glacial ice fields and the beautiful Prince William Sound.

TAKE THE FERRY: With frequent service in the summer, The Alaska Marine Highway is an exciting and beautiful way to travel to Valdez and experience the majestic Prince William Sound. The territory south of Valdez belonged to the Chugach, an Alaska Native people in the region of Prince William Sound on the southern coast of Alaska. The Chugach people are an Alutiiq (Pacific Eskimo) people who speak the Chugach dialect of the Alutiiq language.

The land to the north is that of the Ahtna. Both native tribes used the area for trade.

1779 Captain Cook sailed into the Sound naming it Sandwich Sound after the Earl of Sandwich. Editors of Cook’s maps renamed it Prince William Sound after Prince William IV.

1790 Spanish explorer Salvador Fidalgo was sent to Alaska to investigate Russian involvement and to establish claim in the area.

1897 Gold seekers came to Valdez to follow the “All American Route” over the Valdez Glacier into the Interior of Alaska. A tent city sprang up at the head of the bay, thus Valdez was formed.

IN 1907, a shootout between two rival railroad companies ended Valdez’s hope of becoming the railroad link from tidewater to the Kennicott Copper Mine. A half-completed tunnel in the Keystone Canyon marks the end of railroad days in Valdez.

1967 After the earthquake, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, transported houses and buildings by truck to the new site, to re-establish the new city at its present location. The original town site was dismantled and abandoned but can be viewed and explored today.

FROM 1975-1977, the Trans-Alaska pipeline was built to carry oil from the Prudhoe Bay oil fields in northern Alaska to a terminal in Valdez, the nearest ice-free port.

1989 The largest oil spill in Northern American history, at the time, occurred when the oil tanker, Exxon Valdez, was leaving Prince William Sound. The spill occurred at Bligh Reef, about 25 miles from Valdez. Although the oil did not reach Valdez, the world-wide community gathered together to clean up and care for the precious wildlife, demonstrating that through disaster there is always a place for unity and kindness.

TODAY Valdez’s amazingly rich history shapes the community that exists now through Art, Music, Museums and Cultural Events. Valdez known to Alaskans as one of the prettiest towns in all of Alaska with majestic mountain views, an abundance of wildlife and marine life, the residents of our small rural seaside town are forever reminded of how much we have overcome.
Prepare to be Amazed
Imagine being near the face of calving glaciers watching huge chunks of ice fall into the ocean as the rumbling crack of breaking ice fills the air. Whether you charter a helicopter, take a boat, kayak, or hike, Valdez has many accessible, breathtaking glaciers to explore. Some of the main glaciers include...

COLUMBIA GLACIER is the second largest tidewater glacier in North America and the largest in Prince William Sound. Navigate through chunks of glacial ice on wildlife cruises or kayak day trips, or take a helicopter ride to see the wonders of Columbia Glacier.

MEARES GLACIER is very unique. While most glaciers throughout the world are retreating, Meares Glacier is one of the only advancing tidewater glaciers in North America. It is located at the head of the Unakwik Inlet in Prince William Sound. Hop aboard a day boat cruise and get a quarter mile from the face of Meares Glacier. See an abundance of whales and other wildlife along the way.

SHOUP GLACIER is tucked away in Shoup Bay and is accessible by boat, kayak, and helicopter or on foot. Experienced hikers can take the 8.5-mile hike to Shoup Bay for fabulous views and an amazing kittiwake rookery. Please check on current conditions of trail before hiking.

VALDEZ GLACIER is located on the outskirts of Valdez and is full of amazing history. Known as the All American Route, gold seekers traveled over the glacier into the interior of Alaska during the Gold Rush of 1898. In the summer, Valdez Glacier can be accessed by kayak with one of our experienced local adventure companies. At certain times during the winter, you can hike, ski or snowmobile to the face of the glacier.

WORTHINGTON GLACIER is one of the most accessible glaciers in Alaska. Located in Thompson Pass, just off the Richardson Highway, this glacier is a must-see if you’re driving in or out of Valdez. Watch for the turnout area to the glacier, park your vehicle, and then walk up to the glacier for an up-close experience.
The natural beauty, with wildlife in abundance, creates the perfect adventure playground for activities for all the family to enjoy. Located in the northeast section of Prince William Sound, and surrounded by the Chugach Mountains, the tallest coastal mountains in North America, it is not uncommon to see Humpback and Orca Whales playing within the Port of Valdez. Visitors can also experience these magnificent creatures in their natural habitat whilst on a day cruise with Stan Stephens Glacier and Wildlife Cruises or LuLu Belle Glacier Wildlife Tours as they take you through the Prince William Sound and beyond. Watch out for sea otters, puffins, seals, sea lions, and Dall porpoise swimming along the side of your boat or even during a kayak tour with Anadyr Adventures or Pangaea Adventures.

Bears, both black and brown bears (pictured page 11) live here, and are frequently seen wandering about eating their fill of berries and fish, also teaching their new born cubs before venturing back to their dens before the winter snowfall comes. Majestic birds like the American eagle, ptarmigan, terns, swans, swallows and hummingbirds, to name a few of the many bird species that live here, or migrate to Valdez — there is ample opportunity for the birding enthusiasts in you to see and photograph. (Goldwell Female Duck pictured page 11).

As you fly with VS Helicopters on one of their many flightseeing tours keep a look out for wildlife and mountain goats.

You can even take a photographic guide with you from Alaska Photography Co. Just don’t forget to pack your camera or even a pair of binoculars; the tours are a must do when visiting Valdez. More information about these tours can be found on valdezalaska.org.

Valdez — Where everything you ever dreamed of seeing and doing in Alaska are all in this one beautiful place!
Valdez boasts some of the most scenic and historic trails in Alaska. Ranging from various lengths and difficulty levels, our trails are sure to please most everyone.

Dock Point Trail, a one-mile round trip hike located next to the small boat harbor, offers a beautiful view overlooking the Port of Valdez and the Alyeska Oil Terminal. Or, choose the more difficult Shoup Bay Trail that leads to the breathtaking Shoup Bay Glacier. See an amazing Kittiwake Rookery along the way (please check on conditions of this trail before hiking).

Mineral Creek Canyon is an extremely popular, six-mile gravel road that gradually winds its way through a majestic mountain canyon with magnificent cascading waterfalls virtually everywhere you look. Hike in as far as you like or go all the way to the end of the trail and see an abandoned gold-stamp mill.

The John Hunter Memorial Trail begins in a beautiful coastal spruce forest and steadily becomes steeper before merging with the Alyeska Pipeline Maintenance Road. This trail offers spectacular views of the Port of Valdez, mountains, glaciers and more. You know you’re at the end of the trail when you reach Solomon Lake and its’ two dams.

More information can be found on our website at www.valdezalaska.org.
Valdez, Alaska has some of the most breathtaking waterfalls in the world. With more than 27 feet of average snowfall during the winter, Valdez becomes The Land of Waterfalls when the snow melts in the spring and summer time. Countless waterfalls cascade down almost every mountain side in Valdez.

WORLD CLASS FISHING

THE PRINCE WILLIAM SOUND in Valdez is a premier fishing destination. Open year-round, our waters are home to all species of salmon, rockfish, lingcod, and some of the most accessible halibut in Alaska. You can drop a line from shore, take your own boat, rent a boat with Fish Central, or take a fishing charter into deeper seas with Valdez Outfitters, Shark Tooth Charters, or obtain charter services from Easy Freeze, Inc. Either way, you’re likely to catch enough fish to eat for dinner, or fill your freezer.

Valdez is home to the oldest fish derbies in Alaska, awarding thousands of dollars in prize money each year. Young and old, all skill levels, the thrill of reeling in a record-breaking fish will keep you coming back for more. Derby info can be found on the inside back cover.

FISH HATCHERY

SOLOMON GULCH HATCHERY presents a unique opportunity to observe salmon as they return to spawn. The hatchery is located across the port on Dayville Road en route to Allison Point. Completed in February 1983 to ensure sufficient numbers of salmon return each year, the facility is licensed to incubate, rear and release 230 million pink salmon, and 2 million coho. With a concerted effort from the Alaska Department of Fish and Game and the City of Valdez, the Solomon Gulch Hatchery annually imprints and releases 105,000 king smolts from the Fish and Game Fort Richardson Hatchery.

The Valdez Fisheries Development Association (VFDA) goals are to produce an annual return of 10 million pink salmon, 100,000 coho and 10,000 king salmon. The best time to view salmon at the hatchery is July through September.

Bears, eagle, sea gulls and sea otters can be found feeding on the fish. Fishing is prohibited within 300 feet of the premises. Please respect all wildlife, especially maintaining a safe distance from any bears in the area. Bears are wild animals and can be dangerous.

Take the self-guided walking tour along the fish ladder and view how the hatchery spawns the fish. The self-guided walkway is open daily, 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., from May to October.
